NOTARIAL CONTRACT IN TERMS OF SECTION 21 (1) OF ACT No. 88 OF 1984

On this day before me, Stanley Brasg notary public of Germiston, appeared March Graham Kenneth Wiggill, Identity No. 5412185153006, and Margaret Jean Wiggill, Identity No. 5911150059007, married to one another in Community of Property and the appearers declared that:

1. Accrual system.—Community of property and of profit and loss shall be excluded from the marriage between the parties and the marriage shall be subject to the accrual system set out in Chapter 1 of the Matrimonial Property Act 88 of 1984 (but excluding any future amendments to the Act, unless at any time otherwise agreed in writing), subject to the modifications set out in this contract.

2. Excluded assets.—The following assets shall be excluded from the accrual system—

2.1 the parties' assets at the commencement of the marriage;

ORDERS OF THE COURT (continued) • ORDERS VAN DIE HOF (vervolg)

2.2 any inheritances, legacies and donations which vest in either party during the marriage;

2.3 any benefits, proceeds or amounts received by either party from any Trust are specifically excluded;

2.4 any damages other than for patrimonial loss to which either party becomes entitled during the marriage.

It is recorded that any income which has accrued to either party after the marriage in respect of any of the excluded assets shall also be excluded from the accrual system.

3. Excluded liabilities and expenditure.—The following liabilities and expenditure shall be excluded from the accrual system:

3.1 the parties' liabilities at the commencement of the marriage;

3.2 any donation made by either party during the marriage to the extent, if any, that it is unreasonable in the parties' circumstances, if the other party—

3.2.1 expressly objects as soon as he or she becomes aware that the first party proposes making or has made the donation or proposes incurring or has incurred the expenditure; and

3.2.3 does not withdraw the objection;

3.3 any liability for damages, a fine or any forfeiture incurred during the marriage by reason of any intentional delict or crime committed by either party.

4. Calculation of accruals.—The accruals of the parties' estates shall be calculated as nearly as possible as if any excluded assets had not existed and any excluded liabilities and expenditure had not been incurred, the intention being that neither party should benefit nor be prejudiced by the fact that the other party has or had excluded assets or incurred excluded expenditure or liabilities. For this purpose the following guidelines shall apply, but subject to the overriding stated intention that—

4.1 any asset acquired directly or indirectly by reason of a party's excluded assets shall also be excluded, including any asset acquired in lieu of an excluded asset or on the security of an excluded asset and any insurance which becomes payable in respect of an excluded asset. Any corresponding liability shall be excluded;

4.2 if either party contributes to the cost of acquisition, improvement or preservation of an excluded asset of the other party the rights and obligations of the parties shall be calculated as if the party making the contribution had acquired an undivided share in the asset in the ratio the value of the contribution bears to the then value of the asset. Similarly, if a portion of such cost is discharged out of non-excluded assets, a share of the asset shall cease to be excluded. A payment on account of a loan taken to pay such cost shall be regarded as a payment on account of the cost;

4.3 if appropriate or convenient, the accruals of the parties' estates shall be calculated by reconstructing what estates the parties would be likely to have accumulated during the marriage if any excluded assets had not existed and any excluded liabilities and expenditure had not been incurred, such reconstructed estates being deemed to be the accruals of their estates;

4.4 to facilitate proof of the accruals of the parties' estates the accrual of a party's estate shall be presumed, unless the contrary is proved, to be the value of the estate at the date as at which accrual is being calculated less—

4.4.1 the original amount or value of each excluded asset of the party, as described in 2, plus;

4.4.2 the original amount or value of each excluded liability or expense incurred by the party as described in 3, adjusted in each case in the same ratio as any change in the weighted average of the consumer price index as published from time to time in the Government Gazette. In the case of the parties' assets and liabilities at the commencement of the marriage 'original amount or value' means the amount or value at the commencement of the marriage.

5. Arbitration.—Should the parties be unable to agree on any matter dealt with in this contract the matter shall be determined by arbitration as follows:

5.1 Should the parties be unable to agree on an arbitrator each party shall be entitled to appoint one arbitrator who shall be a practising chartered accountant, attorney or advocate;

5.2 the arbitrator or arbitrators shall be entitled to determine such procedure to be adopted in the arbitration as he or they may deem fit, entailing a minimum of formality, delay and expense;

5.3 the award of the arbitrator or arbitrators shall be final and binding, provided that if they are unable to reach agreement they shall refer the matter to an umpire nominated by them and his decision shall be final and binding;

5.4 if the arbitrators are unable to agree on an umpire the umpire shall be nominated by the president for the time being of the Law Society of the Transvaal or is principal successor to his or its functions;

5.5 the arbitrator, arbitrators or umpire, as the case may be, shall also determine who shall bear the costs of the arbitration.

6. Values of commencement estates.—The parties declare the value of their assets and liabilities at the commencement of the marriage to be:

	Husband	Wife
Assets.....	Nil	Nil
Liabilities	Nil	Nil

These values shall be presumed to be correct unless the contrary is proved.

Signed by the parties at Germiston on the above date.

By the Court.—Registrar.
