NEW HUMAN RESOURCE SYSTEM

SARS has taken a business decision to replace the PERSAL system with a PeopleSoft Human Resource Management System.

SARS realises that there are certain Y2K restrictions during the millennium cross-over period and as a result there has been no alteration to data formats that were previously sent to PERSAL. All organisations and institutions that currently interface with PERSAL and have SARS clients must take note that the SARS PeopleSoft HRMS Project has reached a point in its life cycle where it is dependent on their data to interface electronically with SARS.

SARS would like to stress the urgency and importance of contact with the organisation to confirm interfacing with SARS. If the interfaces are not confirmed it may lead to non-payment of premiums for which SARS will not accept responsibility.

A stable system will benefit both stakeholders and SARS now and in the future.
