GENERAL NOTICE

NOTICE 1264 OF 2000

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE

(on behalf of the South African Reserve Bank)

1. SUBJECT

PROPOSED SOUTH AFRICAN RESERVE BANK AMENDMENT BILL, 2000
("THE BILL")

2. PURPOSE

The purpose of this publication is to invite comments on the proposed Bill. Any comments must please be forwarded for attention of Mr P H Bartleet at the South African Reserve Bank, P O Box 427, Pretoria, 0001 or at fax no. (012) 313-4090, to reach him not later than 5 April 2000.

3. SUMMARY

The Bill amends section 10A(2) of the South African Reserve Bank Act, 1989 (Act No. 90 of 1989), so as to empower the Governor of the South African Reserve Bank to determine what percentage of banks' holdings of Reserve Bank notes and subsidiary coin may be taken into account for the purpose of calculating the minimum reserve balances required to be maintained by banks in accounts with the Reserve Bank.

4. DISCUSSION

4.1 The provision requiring banks to maintain minimum reserve balances in accounts with the Reserve Bank was originally contained in the Banks Act, 1990 (Act No. 94 of 1990 - "the Banks Act"). At the time of the enactment of the Banks Act (which came into operation on 1 February 1991 under the title of the "Deposit-taking Institutions Act") this provision was regarded as an element of the prudential requirements that banks should comply with.

- 4.2 However, with the passage of time the prescription regarding the maintenance by banks of minimum reserve balances with the Reserve Bank manifested itself as a measure whereby the flow of cash in the Republic of South Africa could be influenced and controlled and, therefore, primarily as an instrument of monetary policy. In consequence hereof, the relevant provision was deleted from the Banks Act and, by means of section 4 of Act 10 of 1993, transferred to the South African Reserve Bank Act as section 10A thereof.
- 4.3 Although this section 10A of the South African Reserve Bank Act has thus far been applied with reasonable effectiveness as an instrument of monetary policy, the recent difficulties relating to liquidity experienced by certain banks (while other banks were at the same time experiencing a surfeit of cash) brought to the fore certain limitations attaching to section 10A as an effective instrument of monetary policy.

These limitations revolve around the fact that, as presently worded, section 10A allows banks to take the total amount of their holdings of Reserve Bank notes and coin into account in the calculation of their minimum reserve balance requirements.

During the course of dealing with the above-mentioned liquidity problems experienced by certain banks, it became clear that if the Reserve Bank were to be enabled to exercise a measure of control over the extent to which banks' holdings of Reserve Bank notes and coin could be taken into account for purposes of the calculation of their required minimum reserve balances, the Reserve Bank would be better equipped to contribute towards the smoothing out of imbalances in the liquidity situation in the banking sector.

4.4 The amendment proposed in the Bill has as its objective the enhancement of section 10A of the South African Reserve Bank Act as an effective tool of monetary policy. In terms of the amendment the Governor of the Reserve Bank is empowered to, having regard to the national economic interest, determine from time to time a percentage of the total amount of a bank's holdings of Reserve Bank notes and subsidiary coin that may be taken into account for purposes of the calculation of the minimum reserve balance the bank is required to maintain in an account with the Reserve Bank.
