NOTICE 323 OF 2007

Safety in Mines Research Advisory Committee (SIMRAC) on behalf of the Mine Health and Safety Council (the Council)

Invitation to submit project proposals

SIMRAC, a permanent committee of the Mine Health and Safety Council, was established in terms of the Mine Health and Safety Act (29/1996) to conduct research and surveys regarding, and for the promotion of, health and safety in the South African mining industry. Suitably qualified agencies and/or persons are invited to submit proposals in response to the project specifications in this Notice. In soliciting research projects for the 2006/2007 and 2007/2008 research programme, the Council has the following goals:

- to indicate the current research needs for research to commence in the 2006/2007 or 2007/2008 cycle;
- to invite research proposals in response to these defined priority areas of research; and
- to invite applications for postgraduate funding□ for research which will promote health and safety within the South African mining industry.

A consultative process has resulted in the Council formulating a co-ordinated, long-term health and safety research programme and identifying priority areas for research to commence in the 2006/2007 cycle. Researchers and agencies are invited to submit research proposals for the research projects indicated. Proposed research must be well designed with a detailed methods section, be ethical and must have the potential to add to existing knowledge, practice or technology, involve the end users and implement/transfer outputs. Research teams must have the specified skills.

19. No unsolicited proposals will be included in the programme for 2006/7.
20. The following three-stage evaluation procedure will be followed:
- a. A technical evaluation of the proposal that will consist of the following items and weight allocations:

c. A preferential procurement purposes using the following criteria and weightings:

- The proposals will each be given a score out of 100 that will be converted to a score out of 10 for the SIMRAC evaluation process
- Commercial Entities will be evaluated against the following criteria and weightings:
  - Ownership - 20%
  - Management - 10%
  - Employment Equity & Skills development – 30%
  - Preferential Procurement – 30%
  - SMME Status – 10%
- National Institutions and Public Entities will be evaluated against the following criteria and weightings:
  - Ownership - 0%
  - Management - 30%
  - Employment Equity & Skills development – 40%
  - Preferential Procurement – 30%

The objectives of the Council in commissioning health and safety research, for both general and commodity-based projects, are to:

- Obtain and evaluate information to establish evidence-based risk assessment, standard setting and health and safety performance measurement;
- Develop techniques or guidelines to prevent, reduce, control or eliminate risks;

- Develop and pilot innovative ideas and procedures, where appropriate, to eliminate, reduce or control risk;
- Obtain information on the extent of work-related ill health;
- Identify, develop and improve sampling and measurement techniques to detect environmental hazards and assess personal exposure;
- Understand the aetiology and identify and evaluate best-practice screening, diagnostic and treatment interventions to reduce the impact of occupational disease;
- Evaluate the effectiveness of control interventions;
- Understand risk perception, attitudes and behaviour related to health and safety and promote best practices in hazard recognition and procedural conformance;
- Empower its statutory committees to formulate policy, expedite research aimed at improving the health and safety in the South African mining industry; and
- Collaborate with national and international initiatives and research to promote health and safety in the mining industry.

The criteria by which proposals will be evaluated include:

- Added value and impact – the Council supports research which can contribute significantly to the improvement in the health and safety of South African miners;
- Value for money – the Council supports cost-effective research;
- Innovation – the Council welcomes new approaches or new areas of focus for research leading to technologies or best practices to improve health and safety;
- Excellence – the Council demands excellence, particularly in the methods employed to conduct research, be it quantitative or qualitative, and hence will consider the track record of the proposer/s for expertise and delivery (quality, time and to budget);
- Use and development of research skills – the Council requires research teams to possess the skills relevant to the success of the project and also favours projects which assist in developing research capacity, particularly in previously disadvantaged groups;
- Collaboration – the Council places a high priority on collaboration between researchers and the “teams of excellence” approach. Thus, the means of soliciting research proposals is intended to stimulate collaboration between centres of excellence and individual experts in order to optimise the use of the Council funding and the research outcomes.
- Development of key indicators – the Council recognises the challenge in assessing performance and improvement in health, as opposed to safety, in the mining industry. There is a lack of suitable occupational health (OH) indicators and baseline data. Thus innovative and robust research to develop relevant OH indicators and baseline values will be favourably considered.

The Council's research and implementation programme consists of occupational health and safety, addresses occupational medicine and hygiene, rock engineering, engineering and machinery, behavioural issues and technology transfer processes.

Each proposal must:

- Address only the research topic advertised and this must be specified;
- Be in the format indicated and the template specified using Word format; and
- Be phased as indicated in the project scope.

Thrust*Thrust 9 Special Projects*Project title*SIM 05 09 03 Design and develop a personal safety device for U/G use (phase 2)*Motivation

Recently MHSC finalized phase 1 (SIM 050903) of the development of a laboratory prototype system designed to enhance the safety of mine personnel. The system, termed the Personnel Safety Device (PSD) system, integrates the following areas of functionality into one device to enhance the safety of the miner carrying it. The areas of functionality integrated are:

1. Collision warning – This includes the dual warning of both the miner and driver of a vehicle of the miner's dangerous proximity to the vehicle. In addition to this, the collision warning function allows the driver of the vehicle to identify the location of miners around their vehicle.
2. Gas warning – Detection of dangerous levels of toxic and / or flammable gases such as methane and CO.
3. RFID – Radio-frequency identification (RFID) and tracking of personnel across zones.
4. Evacuation – Emergency mine and zone evacuation via RF electromagnetic signalling.

The workshop conducted with industry and governmental representatives as well as with safety & cap lamp system manufacturers showed definite industry interest in the PSD system. It was felt, particularly with regard to collision warning, that the PSD system offered significant benefits to both the underground and surface mining industries.

Since the PSD system has only been developed to a laboratory prototype level, phase II of this project aims to further develop and industrialize the PSD system to a stage where it is able to be manufactured in the required volumes, marketed and sold.

In order to leverage the IP generated in the first phase of the project to maximum benefit for the mining industry, this process should be undertaken rapidly.

Primary outputs

1. A commercially ready product - further develop the PSD laboratory prototype system
2. Industry presentations
3. Detailed report

Scope

Underground proof of concept

The PSD system needs to be tested in an underground environment in order to validate the results obtained during laboratory testing and to provide feedback into the design modification stage of industrialization.

Improving design robustness

The robustness of the PSD system design needs to be improved from the following standpoints:

1. Gas sensor stability – The cross sensitivity and stability of the gas sensors on the PSD transponder device needs to be improved in accordance with SANS-1515 requirements.
2. High load conditions – Both the collision warning subsystem and the active tagging subsystem need to be evaluated under conditions of high load (i.e. many transponders communicating with the collision warning or active tagging readers).
3. User interface enhancement – Both the user interface on the PSD transponder (i.e. buzzer, device LEDs and flashing cap lamp) and the driver's terminal collision warning need to be revised for different working environments & potential scenarios.
4. Interfacing to existing mine communication infrastructure – The interoperability of the active tagging readers with the existing mine communication infrastructure needs to be investigated.
5. Device housing & mounting locations – The packaging of the PSD system components needs to be designed and their mounting locations on the vehicle and miner need to be determined, as these may have an influence on the design.
6. Certification – The devices in the PSD system need to be certified to be in accordance with EMC, environmental & intrinsic safety requirements. In addition the transponder needs SABS-1515-1 certification as a type C battery operated portable device. Further certification as to the safety of the transponder when used in close proximity to electric and electronic detonators needs to be obtained.

Industrialization

The devices in the system need to be made ready for manufacturing. This involves the following processes:

1. Pilot testing – The system needs to be tested in its intended environment to allow any problems and required modifications to be determined before the final industrialization phase. This usually involves a pilot testing phase in which the device is deployed in a test location for a period of a few months, and any issues raised by users of the system feed back into the industrialization process.
2. Component audit – A component audit needs to be conducted to ensure that the components meet the cost and performance requirements for large scale manufacturing.
3. Automatic testing – This includes making changes to the design and layout for automatic testing, the design of test jigs, etc.
4. Housings – Jigs and moulds for the housings for the devices need to be manufactured.
